

Anyone can get Hepatitis B.

A few simple shots can prevent it.

Hepatitis B disease is very serious and very contagious. But it can be prevented. Ask your doctor for the hep B shots.

For further information, see www.hepBfacts.org.
California Department of Health Services, Immunization Branch